Dear Ken:

Thank you for writing to me about [redacted]
We are always interested in bright young men and women.

The enclosed brochures summarize employment information which would be of interest to [redacted]. The description of professional opportunities is more in line with her background but she might be interested in starting out in the clerical - secretarial field if something more in keeping with her training were not immediately available.

I am also enclosing a set of our application forms with the suggestion that [redacted] complete them at her earliest convenience and return them to us.

It was good to hear from you and I shall be sure to let you know what happens to [redacted] application.

Sincerely

SIGNED
